DAILY COURIER. WEDNESDAY, ....JANUARY 26, 1859.

Reading Matter on every page.

AN OLD BILL.-We have in our possession a thirty dollar bill of the old United Colonies money. As Continental money is quite a rarity ilance Committee. in these parts, we have thought it proper to make a short notice of this sample of the currency used by our grandsires of '76. On one side is a vignette, an altar surmounted by a wreath of The husband thinks his wife was bewitched by levrel, in the distance several mountains, and the the negro. motto about it is "Si Recte Facus." Inscribed aron this same side is, "This bill entitles the pearer to receive thirty Spanish milled dollars, or the value thereof, in gold or silver, according to a resolution of Congress, passed at Philadelphia, November 2, 1776." Signed, B. Levy, Thos. Donnellany. The reverse is ornamented with two rignettes - one an ocean, calm and placid, encircling which are the words, "Cessant Vento Conquiscemus,"-the other, the same ocean lashed into | the poor. fury by some fierce waters, and the words, "Vi Concitate." Compared with the beautiful bank bills of the present time, this queer, square bit of paper, almost as thick as pasted oards are now-adays, seems a clumsy circulating medium for cueral or iness transactions; yet its rarity and historic in erest renders it of great value to the this morni

ARCTIC VOYAGES AT MOZART HALL .- This is withut doubt the best exhibition of the kind we have had the pleasure of witnessing. Scenes new and strange drawn with a magic pencil. The ocean in all its varied moods, is strikingly natural. Now heaving and foaming majestically onward, then subsiding until scarce a ripple is seen on its calm placed under arrest. There is no direct charge but deceiful surface; and again dashing headlong through the storm, leaping towards heaven, and yawning into deep abyses, threatening to engulph the frail bark upon its billows. Air, sky, and waves are the crowning gems of this picture. At one time the effect of the warm, hazy atmosphere is produced; further North is given us a cold, damp fog, while in the Polar Regions, at one period we see objects through a perfectly clear freezing at the same time compiling a Southern Railroad Directory; and he might have added, picking up and appropriating to his own use every thing which came in his way. see objects through a perfectly clear, freezing atmostphere, and at one time we are blinded by the drifting ice. An exhibition will be given to families this afternoon at three o'clock-another tonight.

FIRE IN CINCINNATI YESTERDAY MORNING-A Woman Burned to Death .- Yesterday morning a fire broke out in a three story frame building on Western Row, above Fourth, in Cincinnati, occupied by Annie Richmond, as a house of prostitution. The building was completely gutted. So rapidly did the flames spread, that the inmates were forced to escape through the windows and up through the roof. A woman named Allison was burned to death, and a young man named Whiteside, respectably connected, jumped from the window of her room and broke his leg. After the fire was extinguished, the girl Allison was found in a reclining position, with her back on the bed, and was burnt so black that it was difficult to distinguish who she was. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

THE PEAK FAMILY BALL RINGERS-TWO PER-ORMANCES To-DAY .- It should be observed by ali, specially in families, that a grand performance by the Peak Family will take place to-day, when a fine opportunity will be offered for children, and young folks generally, to enjoy the interesting concerts of this company of artists. In the vening a brilliant programme will offer its attractions. The delicious music of the bells, the harp, the staff of silver bells, and the rare vocal abilities of several members of the company, combine to make this entertainment thoroughly novel, refreshing, and delightful. The tickets for children are only 15 cents for the afternoon concert, and the price of adults reduced to half the usual price. To-night they give their last concert.

Distressing Occurrence.—Bridget Cross, wife

After this passage, an adjournment prevailed, over by an omnibus vesterday, on Fulton street. | brand upon Douglas' brow above Preston, and the child was instantly killed and the mother fatally injured. She had been to the drug store, corner of Preston and Green streets, and on her return, as she was crossing at the intersection of the streets named, with the child in her arms, the horses of the omnibus ran against her, knocking her down, and the vehicle passed over her and her baby. An inquest was held, which is reported elsewhere in this paper. We have no further particulars than those named. The distressing occurrence was, of course, an accident, but it savors of recklessness on the part

Police Court .- There was but one case before Judge Johnston yesterday, Abigail Kinman, who was up on a peace warrant, sued out by her sisterin-law, Mahala Kelly. The conversation of the defendant indicated that she was insane, and a jury was ordered for this morning to inquire Catharine Murphy had been in arrest for ting drunk, but when the cause was called she had amoved the ranche. There are four or five in the workhouse by that name now, and the policeman who made the arrest, doubtless thinking there were enough of them there already by that name, told her to slide, and she slid.

MADEMOISELLE HENRIETTE SIMON.-It has been stated in several of our exchanges, and we may have copied a notice to the same effect in our own paper, that this talented young lady, whose singing at a recent concert in Philadelphia was rece.ved with so much favor, was a pupil of Mad. LaGrange. This is entirely a mistake. We learn from undoubted authority, that of her own father, that Miss Simon has had no other preceptor than Mons. L. C. Colliere, of our own city, to whose careful training she is indebted for the extraordinary progress she has made, and to whom both father and daughter express themselves in the highest degree grateful.

BURGLARY .- Officers Howard and Enlow, of the Seventh Ward, about three o'clock yesterday morning, discovered the door of G. W. Anderson's drug store, corner of Tenth and Green streets, ajar, and the money drawer of the establishment on the sidewalk, minus its valuable contents. On waking up the clerk it was ascertained that he had locked up at ten o'clock, when all things were right. The robbers entered no doubt by the use of outsiders, as the key had been left in the door, on the inside. Some glaziers diamonds and some small change was all that rewarded the rascally enterprise of the scamps.

THE BURNS FESTIVAL-The hundredth centennial celebration of the birth-day of Robt. Burns, who, in poetry, is what Howard was in philanthropy, was celebrated at the hall of the St Charles Restaurant last evening. The party was not large, but wit, humor, and genuine good feeling filled the vacum. The orator of the evening, Dr. Robt, J. Breckinridge, delivered a speech remarkable for its brevity, pertinence, and felicitous imagery, which a bare report would do injustice. With it we will publish, te-morrow, an extended account of the affair.

THEATER.-We need hardly mention that the grand opera troupe of Strakosch appears again to-night at the theater-the liberal manager, Geo. Mellus, having secured them for a few made in the country.

The Douglas and Fitch Affair.

The following account of the scene in the U.S. Senate on Friday, as we find it in the Cincinnati Gazette, gives more of the details of that affair: The scene in the Senate on Friday evening, between Messrs. Fitch and Douglas, has not been correctly represented. The main facts are sub-stantially as follows: E. D. Potter's nomination as Collector at Toledo had been postponed, owing to Pugh's absence. It was called on Friday, when Pugh spoke in opposition, questioning Potter's political orthodoxy, and made an urgent personal appeal to the Senate for his rejection.

Douglas followed, sustaining Pugh, and then branched into denunciations of the appointments of Illinois, assailing them as being made with corrup: motives, and charging the President as being directly privy. So far as the Administration was concerned, he proclaimed himself an unconquered

During this fierce invective, Fitch, whose son is an Illinois office-holder, was observed to grow pale, and rose as soon as Douglas concluded. After reviewing the speech just made, he said Douglas had stated what he knew to be untrue, and stigmatized his course in the severest terms. He was called to order by Mr. Crittenden and Douglas replied, saying there might be some exceptions among the officials in Illinois, but they generally were of the character he had described base, profligate and corrupt. He evaded any reference to Fitch's gross personalities. Davis rose at this point, and deprecated the language which had been used, as only worthy of a brothel or a bar room. He said the Senate had a brother or a bar room. He said the Senate had fallen from its high estate, when such scenes could be permitted to occur.

Gen. Shields interposed, and said he was perfectly cool, but deplored the passion exhibited in this personal episo e, even by those who condemned it. Davis then said that his feelings at these spectacles had betrayed him into language which he regretted as unbecoming the body.

Fitch apologized to the Senate for expressions which were indecorous, but so far as Douglas was concerned, he desired it understood, he had nothing to detract in any manner from. He meant of John Cross, and her infant child, were run leaving the nomination pending, and Fitch's is as happy as man could de His Southern friends say it must be resented, or he will be disgraced. But it is believed he will he will be disgraced. But it is believed he will I am indebted for "The New Pleasure," which is bear this indignity with the submission he has to form the subject of my future articles. I am done some others.

Latest from Mexico.

A special Washington dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette says: The latest private intelligence from Mexico, received here from highly intelligent and responsi-ble sources, is very encouraging for the Liberal party, who continue to gain ground in the good will of the people. The most perfect unanimity of feeling and purpose exists among their leaders, who are determined to listen to no compromise whatever, but to insist upon the re-establishment of the Constitution of 1857, and the sequestration of the church property.

The estates of the church are estimated to be not the church property.

worth between two and three hundred millions of dellars. Their appropriation by the State, therefore, will not only give it at once the means of establishing a firm and stable government, but will also result in a larger addition of annual revenue, by subjecting it to taxation. Such a policy, relaying the presses of the lieving the masses of the people materially of their tax burdens, cannot fail to secure for itself decided popularity. Our Administration sees clearly that it is the Liberal alone from whom we can expect stability enough in the Government to give any encouragement in the successful negotiation of a treaty. Hence Mr. Buchanan pays no attention what-ever to the programme of the Zuloagas, Robles, or Miramons. He waits the inevitable establishment of the Constitutional government, but couldn't think of assuming the responsibility of promoting INDIAN DISTURBANCES IN WESTERN TEXAS .-- An extra from the Frontier News gives an account of a fight, which took place in Palo Pinto county, between a party of Indians, said to be Caddoes, from the Lower Reserve, and some citizens from Erath county. According to the statement in the News, the party of Caddoes had been camped for several days near Golconda, when some horses were stolen and a negro killed. It was thought to have been done by Camauches. The citizens of Palo Pinto sent to Stephensville, Erath county, for assistance; that a company came up and went to the camp, as they say, to notify the Caddoes to leave, as mischief had been done; that on approaching the camp, shortly after daylight on the morning of the 27th ult., the guide called out "Look out, boys, or you will be shot," when the firing commenced on both sides, resulting in the killing of a son of Col. Stephens, wounding another white man, and killing seven Indians, News, the party of Caddoes had been camped for another white man, and killing seven Indians, three of whom were squaws. Among the Indians killed was the notorious Caddo Jake.

Great alarm prevails on the frontier on account of this affair. Expresses had arrived at Weatherford, from Stephensville and Golconda, and the Newssays all the families had left their homes.— Many from Palo Pinto had moved into Parker for safety, as it was supposed the Indians would seek revenge.

We have verbal reports which materially vary from the above rumor. They represent that the Indians were shot while asleep in their camp, and that Stephens was accidentally killed by his own party. Caddo Jake enjoyed, in a remarkable degree, the confidence of the whites, and had been their steadfast friend.—Dallas (Texas) Herald.

A MAMMOTH FRAUD.—The New York Times says: The grossest frauds in connection with the Oregon and Washington war debt, have been brought to light by the House Committee on Military Affairs, through the efforts of Mr. Faulkner, of Va., chairmin. The whole debt, as reported by Government agents, is about six million dollars, of which the committee assert that not more than about one million is justly due. Some of the charges are outrageous. Pistols are charged at fifty-five dollars each, muskets at one hundred and twenty-five dollars, oats at five dollars per bushel, hay at one hundred and twenty dol.ars per ton, and other things in proportion.

'THE NEW PLEASURE.'

My friend and room-mate, Jeremiah Jones, was, erates and carried off by an excited multitude, of all common sense men, the most unimaginative, and, at the same time, most sensible man, in his Jeremiah and myself were two extremes. Jones believed money the only object worth working for, and the Bank Note Reporter and the various commercial books and magazines the only books worth reading. He went to his business at eight o'clock, A. M., and returned home at 6 P. M.; and. not content with his labors of the day, he spent his evenings in devising money-making schemes, in which he vainly endeavored to interest his roommate, myself. Now, I think money is a very good thing, and business all very well, but at the same time the love of business should not destroy all other sentiments. Jones and I often argued—yes, of the existence of a secret brotherhood, whose

As Jones has often said I was always full of fancies, my reading was confined generally to scientific books. Not that I read sufficiently to be deep in the sciences, but I possessed, so to speak, a surface knowledge of a great many things. I was a clerk in a large commercial house in the Metropolis, and having a sufficient income for my immediate wants, I took no thought of the future. Chemistry was always a favorier study of mine hemistry was always a favorite study of mine. and all my spare cash was invested in the pur-chase of aparatus, as I required it in my various experiments. My evenings were generally spent in our room, and I have frequently prolonged my labors till after midnight, much to the disgust of my friend Jones, who would growl and grumble neartily at me, for filling the room with the noisome odors which, I must confess, often arose in the course of my experiments. Above all things, electricity was my favorite study, and upon this fact is based the change that took place in my riend's character.
One evening, while Jones was vainly endeavoring to induce me to invest some of my space mode, a little mercantile speculation he had devised, I suddenly changed the theme by asking him suddenly changed for my fancies could not abruptly, why some of my fancies could not be turned into money with less risk of loss than his own. I had struck the right cord.— The magic word money attracted his atten-tion for the first time to my experiments. I was occupied at the time in making cepper casts of some curious coins, which I had borrowed for the purpose, by the aid of the galvanic battery. Jeremiah viewed my operations with a urious eve, and he could not repress an exclama on of wonder and delight when I showed hi ow perfect and beautiful were the casts I had roduced. When I explained the process, his lelight was unbounded, and from that eve lid him good. From an almost morose compan came talkative and cheerful. His mind ion, he became talkative and cheerfal. Its mind seemed to expand, as he studied the wonders of nature and art. He soon became a profound student, and soon far outstripped his less gifted friend, who had studied only for amusement.—He found also another and unexpected benefit from his studies. His mind was refreshed by change of thoughts, and he found himself more capable in business matters than before. He neglected none of his duties to his employers; but, on the contrary, performed them with even more alacrity than formerly. He was engaged as an assistant in a large man-afacturing establishment, and, aided by dis-coveries he made during his experiments made during his ith me in the evening, he was enabled to make ecided improvements in the machinery used in decided improvements in the machinery used in his employers' establishment. He was advanced rapidly, and in a few years was admitted as a partner in the concern. Still Jones and I am close friends. He is yet engaged in business, and in desarryadin proserous and hanny. He made s deservedly prosperous and happy, we or three business trips to England. In that country, in spite of his opinion that American products are the best the world can afford, he cound a maiden whom he induced to return home with him as his wife, and I am glad to sav his life

And when I was told that they would continue to and in the hope of creating a like interest in the minds of my readers, I have resolved to write a few articles on the subject, to which this may be deemed as introductory. THE DEATH OF PURSER HUNTER .- In the Police Court yesterday, William Roach, who keeps saloon at 91 Richmond street, was held in $10 ing Ex-Purser S. V. Hanter, of the U.S. Navy, on Wednesday night. It appears that Hunter was found drunk on Hanover street about ten o'clock in the evening, and was carried by a police officer of Station One to his rooms in the Webster House, and was put to bed by him and the pro-No. 91 Richmond street, in a state of insensib ty. A gash was cut in his head, such as would have been made if he had failen upon the edge of the step. He was taken to the hospital, where he died at two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Roach says he came into his saloon and was so beastly drunk that he put him out, and that he put him out, and that he become nothing of his injuries. A girl living next knows nothing of his injuries. A girl living next door says she saw Roacn strike him with a bottle and knock him down, and the belief that such was the case was strengthened by the fact that was the case was strengthened by the fact that immediately after the assault Roach field to East Boston, returning, however, at about four o'clock yesterday morning, when he was arrested.

Mr. Hunter was the same person recently dismissed by a court martial from the naval service, in consequence of intemperate habits. He was about thirty-five years of age, unmarried, a native of Kentucky, and a young man of fine talents and generous impulses—a physician by profession. For some years he was employed in one of the Department at Washington, from which of the Departments at Washington, from which be was transferred to a Pursership in the Navy. He remained unconscious from the time of receiving the fatal injuries up to the moment of his death.—Boston Post, Jan. 22.

Soulouque, in company with Ministers of State and generals of the army, left Port au Prince, on the robbery of the Treasurer's office, of Coshocton county, of twenty thousand dollars. Yesterday one of the deputy sheriffs arrived in the city, from whom we learn the full particulars, as follows:—That the county court had been in session on the day of the robbery, examining three persons charged with burglary. Some sixty or seventy witnesses from the neighboring villages had been subpensed by the parties accused, and to allow them to return home the same evening, the Judge issued an order to the Treasurer to pay them their attendance, which required the attention of the Treasurer in his office until 10 oʻclock at night, about which time a man entered and asked concerning the taxes on a certain piece of property in the town of Newcastle. Mr. Thatcher turned about to consult his records, when the man threw over his head a shawl, which was a signal for two accomplices in waiting outside, who rushed in and first gagging the Treasuaer, afterwards bound him hand and foot. The keys were then removed from his pocket, the safe opened, and the above sum carried off. Mr. Thatcher was pinioned in a most inhuman but effectual manner, and thrown into a box in one corner of the room, where he laid in the most excruciating agony for a period

The Great Irish Conspiracy. The Great Irish Conspiracy.

The English papers have contained, from time to time for the last month, notices of arrests made in Ireland on charges of conspiracy against the British supremacy. Some mysterious Phœnix Society, or society of Phœnixes, was connected with the proceedings, as the hive and origin of the rious seditious movements. A girl named Ann Wilton, too, was taken before the police on suspicion of having written treasonable letters in orpicion of having written treasonable letters in order to excite a general revolt among the soldiery.
But it turns out, on a closer investigation of the subject, that the conspiracy was not a very alarming one; the suspected girl proved to be an unforunate demented damset, and the Phoenix Society,

"But," he would add, kindly clasping my hand, "you need not fear, for as long as I have a dollar in the world you shall share it." So you see Jones did sometimes entertain very unbusiness-like notions.

I have been thus particular in describing the former character of my friend, for the Jones of now. From a one-ideaed man, he has become so full of imagination and love of curious things, that even I am compelled to pronounce him visionary. The conspirators themselves held nocturnal gatherings in out of the way places, where as many as seven, and at one time, as many as fifteen persons attended, all furiously beat on the speedy accomplishment of their object. They sang songs to each other, and made speeches, and occasionally drilled with wooden swords, according to the most approved methods of the military art. The most dreadful gathering of all took place one night at Skibberdeen, where one hundred persons met, with pikes in their hands and place one night at Skidderdeen, where one hundred persons met, with pikes in their hands and a most ardent desire for guns and pistols.

In this crisis Daniel was imprudent enough to whisper the fact of the competency to his father confessor, Father John O'Sullivan, who instantly rebuked Daniel for his folly and wickednes in joining a secret society, and refused to grant him absolution until he desired from his practices. The

A SAD CASE .- On Friday last a neatly dressed and beautiful lady, evidently a stranger in this oity, called at the effice of Mayor MacGavack, and requested a private conference with that gentleman. Complying with her request, the Mayor was acquainted with the truly melancholy part of her history, which led her to call upon him for advice and assistance. Through tears, such as only the broken hearted could wear she informed him the broken hearted could weep, she informed him that she lately arrived here from Charleston, com-ing hither at the instigation of a man who had wooed and won her affections, and then by the artifices, usually employed by the soft tongued sedu-cer, wrought her ruin. She stated that he had pledged himself to meet her at Nashville, and reprotegor imiser to meether at Nashville, and re-pair so far as possible—by marriage—the great wrong he had done her. Since her arrival here, she had borne her misery patiently and quietly, making dilligent search and inquiry for him she had loved to her ruin. But she had searched in vain, and in her dire extremity, betrayed, penni-less and alone, had determined to unburthen to some kind hearted one the story of her trans-

In the first part of her conversation with the Mayor, she seemed quite calm and rational, but to relate with entire composure her sad gravan-ces was more than her woman's heart would allow her to do. Perceiving her embarrassment, Mayor MacG. kindly suggested that he should furnish her lodging at a hotel, and the next day advise with her as to what was best to be done. She assented, and was conveyed to a hotel. Next day the Mayor called on her, according to promise, but was pained to find her sadly changed from what she was on the previous day. Her sorrows had pressed too heavily upon her—her reason was dethroned, and a wild laugh and incoherent expressions told but teo plainly how terrible was the orsions told but too plainly how terrible was the or deal through which she had passed. At the first flush it would not be supposed that there was anything likely to prove peculiarly interesting in the musty legal records of a court of justice. Yet we were rarely entertained yesterday afternoon for more than a golden hour, in examining the yellow-tinted, time-worn minute book of the first session of the Jefferson County Court. These simple memoranda of the long ago contain a world of amusing and instructive mat ter-food for thought, and affording subjects for elaboration into reminiscential essays. The first court was held April 6th, 1784. This was then a county of Virginia. At that time the Union of the States had not been organized, nor the Federal Constitution framed. The war of independence had just terminated, and the country was laboring in the throes of a political revolution. re copied a few items that will doubtless interest the reader, especially those who are descendants from the early pioneers about the falls. The Jefferson County Court was composed of Isaac Coxe, Richard Chenoweth, George May, gentlemen, as Justices; Wm. Pope was Sheriff, Benj. Pope, Deputy, and Wm. Johnston, Clerk.

Christopher Greenup, afterwards Governor of this State, was the first person admitted to practice at the bar. The original tavern-keeper "around the falls was Edward Tyler, who was granted license. In these good old times the stock ran at large through the boundless forests, and it was neces sary that every person should record the peculiar marks upon their property so that it might be identified. The following are specimens of these "marks:" Samuel Smith's-an upper and under bit, and a crop of each ear; Wm. Johnston's-a slit ia one ear, and a half crop in the other.

Peace warrants were in the fashion then as now a-days. Edward McDonald was required to give bail in one hundred pounds that he would not maim, or wound, or fret Sary Watson.

The soldiers were taken care of in those times. The Court granted John Brand, a private in Gen. George Rogers Clarke's expedition, four hundred acres of land on Drennon's Lick Creek. Wm. May was at this time County Surveyor.

Tavern Keepers' Rutes .- The Court then exer cised a paternal care over the keepers of taverns, and fixed the following as the regular rates to be charged. One gallon of corn, nine pence; dinner one shilling and six pence; lodging, six pence; one quart of tod dy, one shilling and six pence; half pint whisky, nine pence. Rum, wine or good peach brandy to be sold at two shillings and three pence per half pint.

Road Making .- How far in the wilderness our fathers had pitched their tents may be judged from the following order: "Ordered that James Sallivan, Mark Thomas and Edward Tyler be appointed to view, search out and examine the nearest and most convenient way from the court house at the falls to Beard's Town, and report the conveniences and inconveniences of the same." Richard Eastin was appointed Surveyor of the streets and of the road to the south fork of Bear-

First Marriage.-The first marriage recorded in the county is that of Daniel McCoy and Eliza I can get it, without fear of imposition.

Juror Fined .- Josiah Phelps was fined five handred pounds of tobacco, for not serving on a grand jury after he had been summoned. Profane Swearing .- In those days the violation of the fourth commandment was not tolerated with any degree of leniency. We see it recorded that John Nelson was fined five shillings for pro-

Divulging False News .- What would the gossips do if the Old Virginia statutes were now in force? George Pomeroy, as a "divulger of false news," was fined two thousand pounds of tobacco, and required to give bonds in one thousand pounds additional.

Pre emption Granted .- The Court ordered that Alex. McMann was entitled to a pre-emption of 1,000 acres, made in 1776, on the Waters of Clear Creek, including "a spring which is remarkable for gushing out of a round hole out of a flat rock, lying to the westward of a small rising."

Prison Bounds.-The bounds of the county prison were fixed as follows :- "To begin on the brow of the second bank of the river opposite a large pop. ular tree; thence running along the bank in a direct line to strike the cross street by J. Sinclair's; thence up said street so far that the line at right angles will include ten acres." Miebehaving .- Daniel Sullivan was held to bail for misbehaving before Wm. Pope, a magistrate. Slaves Hung for Stealing .- The severity with which slaves were punished at that time for comparatively trivial offences will strike the reader with a feeling akin to herror. The following eases occurred in 1784: Tom, a slave of Robert Daniel, for stealing 2% yards calice, some ribbon thread, was tried and sentenced to be hung .-His master was paid £60 by the State of Virginia.

Pete, the property of Francis Vigo, for feloniously stealing surdry merchandize, was also hung. But here we must close our first chapter. A Kansas letter says that more than thousand slaves owned on the borders of Missouri have been taken South, as it is impossible to keep the Abolitionists from them. The Opposition in Virginia are trying to oncentrate on Mr. Coggin, formerly a member of gress, as their candidate for Governor against James Moreland, charged with killing arrested in that city on Monday.

Considerable surprise has been and is still expressed at the defeat of Col. R. K. White, who was a candidate before the Council for Tobacco Inspector. Of his entire competency and fitness for the place there was no question. He is an old citizen, has a large acquaintance, and his popular general favorite. He was almost the unanimous choice of those engaged in the tobacco trade, and this fact, which should alone have secured his election, no doubt assisted in his defeat, as some of the council seemed determined to thwart their wishes, regardless of consequences. The police, mn on first page for particulars as to also, whose influence has of late years been so onstantly used to the injury of the city, were, we are told, mainly instrumental by their manage ment, and by industriously circulating reports prejudicial to Col. White, in electing one of their number to the position. But really we ought not to be surprised at anything our Common Council would do. But their end is rapidly approaching and we fervently trust we may never be called upon to look on their like again.

In the House of Representatives on Saturleave, introduced a bill to provide for the holding of a term annually in the Circuit and District Courts of the United States for the District of Kentucky at Paducah, in the State of Kentucky, which was read twice, and referred to the Committe on the Judiciary. Is it not time that the legal profession in this city should take the necessary steps to procure the passage of a bill through Congress authorizing terms of the U.S. District Court to be held in Louisville? A splendid court room in the new custom house is now nearly finished, and in a few weeks more will be ready for occupancy, but unless some movement is made by those interested, there will be no occasion for using it.

REPORT ON OPERATIVE SURGERY AS A THERAPEU TIC AGENT .- This is a report extracted from the transactions of the American Medical Association It was made by J. B. Flint, M. D., chairman of the committee on the same. We have read this pamphlet with pleasure, and found it full of wholeme precepts, sound doctrines, zealous in its advocacy of conservativeness, and its denunciations of charlatanism, and particularly suited for the perusal, study, and adaption of those who would be called "bold, intrepid, and fearless" surgeons and practitioners.

Dr. Flint is well known in medical literature to e one of the most able and intelligent contributors thereto. He has inherited an established reoutation in the South and West, of being a faithful, reliable, and learned surgeon. Anything, therefore, from his pen can but meet with high consideration.

Explosion of a Powder Mill-Tremendous Shock-Loss of Life.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin of Friday afternoon Yesterday afternoon, a few minutes after four o'clock, one of the powder mills exploded in the Hagley yard of the works of Messrs. Dupont, on Brandywine Creek, about four miles above Wilmington. Two workmen, named James Gibbons and John Grant, were killed. The amount of powder that exploded was very large, and the shock was felt all over the country to a distance of many miles, even reaching Philadelphia, and creating an impression that an earthquake had occurred. This is the first explosion attended with loss of life since the melancholy one of August 1857. A dispatch from Wilming on says: gust, 1857. A dispatch from Wilming on says:
"The shock was sensitively felt for a circuit of twenty miles or more, and caused much exciteent among the citizens of Wilmington. It was ared that the loss of life would be heavier, and andreds of persons burried to the scene, but the number of hands employed in the yard at the time was fortunately not large. The character-stic benevolence of the owners of the mill, in such eases, has been manifested on the occasion

The shock was sensibly felt in this city, particularly at the lower portion of it, and much alarm was caused. On the Neck the report was heard so distinctly and the shock was so great that the general impression was that an explosien had taken place at the Point Breeze Gas Works. In the Southern Wards the people ran out of their ouses in many cases in their alarm. The policeserted their station at the Moyamensing Hal nder the persuasion that the steeple upon it had allen. In the center of the city, where the usual oise and bustle incident to business prevailed the shock was not much felt, but at some points, that a large building had fallen in the neighbor

We are assured that in the southwestern part of the city the shock was sufficient to put the hands of clocks violently forward, and to shake loose objects in houses. In West Philadelphia and in the Fourteenth Ward the shock was very severe. The persons in Spring Garden Hall thought that n bell in the steeple had falle Philadelphia houses were shaken, and in one in-stance a looking glass hanging against the wall was broken by the concussion. Lieut. Torbert ssures us that the ball and rod on the spire of he school house, on Chestnut street, near Moore, he West Philadelphia, was shaken down by the vicience of the shock. In the old districts of Kensington, Northern Liberties, Richmond, and Penn, the shock were but slight, while in Frankford and Germantown it was felt very sensibly. At Manayunk there were two trains of cars running through the streets at the time, and they prevent-ed any ordinary noise from being heard.

It is a curious circumstance that while this hock was felt with great severity at Newark, shock was felt with great severity at Newark, Del., and at Chester, and very distinctly at Phila-delphia, the people of Wilmington, although only four miles distant, knew nothing of the explosion. We have heard this explained in the following nanner: The mills at Dupont's works all fac the Brandywine. Their rears are constructed of heavy masonry, while the fronts are built of light wood-work, in order to divert the force of an ex losion towards the creek, where there are no nildings to damage. This arrangement caused the shock to come over in the direction of Phila delphia, while the heavy rear portion of the mill, being in the direction of Wilmington, protected that city from the violence of the concussion.— The moisture in the atmosphere also assisted to convey the sound a great distance. The shock was felt at the State House, in this city, at precisely sixteen minutes past four o'clock. We have not yet heard the precise moment at which ave not yet heard the precise moment at which he explosion took place

The Eagle thinks it "strange" that Democrats are not offering to bet on the election of their State ticket. The Eagle has strange notions sometimes. The truth is, Democrats like to win money from their political opponents; but they have some respect for the feelings of others, and they do not feel disposed to exult over a prostrate foe by making propositions which they know will not and cannot be accepted. We assure our neighbor, who is vigorously "whistling to keep his courage up," that whenever any of his politi-cal friends feel disposed to make a proposition to bet against a majority of ten thousand for the Democratic ticket, they have only to name it, and a prompt acceptance will test their sincerity.—

A large fire was raging in the woods near Fayetteville, Ark., which, it was feared, would extend many miles and destroy much property.

A large party of gold hunters were preparing to leave Fort Smith for Pike's Peak. Butterfield has abandoned the project of conveying the mail from Fort Smith to Memphis by the river, on account of low water. An unusual amount of snow in the 35th parallel detained the mail.

The Indians are also very hostile.

Much excitement existed in Carson Valley respecting the laws of Utah. Meetings have been held, taking strong grounds against the jurisdiction of Utah. The probate judge is required by resolutions of these meetings to abstain from the exercise of the duties of ais office. Other meetings sustained the Utah authorities, but favored a separation from that Territory.

THE RIVER was rising pretty fast, yesterday, with fully nine feet water in the canal, by the mark. On the falls there were seven feet in the chute, and six feet two inches over the rocks—a rise of eight inches in the previous 24 hours. The weather was very moderate and cloudy, with a light sprinkle of rain in the evening.
At Cincinnati, as we learn by our dispatches the river was rising yesterday, but at Pittsburgh it was falling fast, with seven feet in the channel, and some ice in the river. The rise and warm weather, however, would prevent the tee from be-coming anyways formidable or a check to navigation.

The Mississippi at St. Louis was falling fast, yesterday, with but seven feet reported to Cairo, and the river full of ice. The weather was mod-erste, and navigation about to be fully resumed. The lower river at New Orleans, and in fact at all points, was falling, with no apprehensions of more crevases before the spring tide. Along Red river the weather, up to the 18th, was rainy, and the river rising at Alexandria and points above, with the expectation of a big river. EXPORTS BY AUBORA .- The propeller Aurora re evening for New Orleans, 1,000 barrels of pork, 300 tierces and 300 barrels of lard, and 300 coils of rope, all taken at less than the usual rates, and a saving of 75 cests per ton in drayage.

The Aurora refused a lot of 600 barrels of pork, which was hauled to her to the wharf, but Col Long, the agent, received it for the Great Western SINEING OF THE CAMDEN.—The following additional particulars in reference to the sinking of the Camden, we copy from the New Orleans Picay-

ne of Wednesday:

The Gamden, Captain Carradine, from Tensas river, with 712 bales cotton and 281 sacks cotton seed, after landing at Benjamin's and Hyam's plantation, on Black river, on the 10th inst., and wooding, sprung a leak.—
The pumps were immediately set to work, and every exertion was made to keep her affort, but without success. The captain ordered the boat to head a shore, where she sunk to the main deck, her cotton floating around, and some hauled on the bank. Capt. Carradine thinks she can be raised. No lives lost. It is supposed that the cargo will be saved, in a damaged condition.

The Hickman came in last evening for a load for the Arkansas. She had a lot of way freight for the lower Ohio, which was transferred to the John Bell.

to the John Bell.

The Diana.—This great boat, with 700 tons of groceries, was at Cairo Monday, as we learn by a dispatch from Capt. Sturgeon. She is due this morning, and returns to New Orleans to-morrow [Thursday] evening. The fine packet John Raine left New Or-leans last Wednesday evening. She is due to-morrow, and returns South Friday.

FOR NEW ORLBANS .- The Fanny Bullitt, a well known favorite, in charge of Capt. Dunham, a well-known veteran, is the regular packet for New Orleans this evening. She starts at 5 o'clock, providing the most complete accommodations for passengers.

The Emma Dean yesterday, in addition to ging to market a vast amount of butter and eggs, had 347 bales of hay and 200 barrels of Ohio whisky. The J. B. Ford, from Wheeling and Park tions for passengers.

kersburg, yesterday re-shipped a large amount of merchandize, iron and nails, on the Tempest, for The Tempest is the regular and permanent packet for Nashville to-morrow. She starts at 5 We learn that the John Tompkins, out of Wabash, in addition to dropping her wheel overboard, burst her cylinder head. The accident occurred three miles above Henderson. To Messrs. Halliday and Hammond, clerks of the fast packet Alvin Adams, we are indebted for a memorandum of exports, forwarded from She was at Cairo Sunday, having encoun

We have also made engagements for 400 sks corn at Tipton's, on the Mississippi."

Capt. Cotton's new boat for the coast trade was yesterday receiving her cylinders, and no doubt they were in place last evening, as one of them was on board in the morning. The engines are mousters in size, and appear to be perfect specimens of mechanical art, and we think when fairly turned loose up stream it will take a loco-motive to keep up with her.

Orleans, on a brief visit to look after his new boat. He remains in the city but a day or two, return in time to take the Nonpareil to New Orleans.

New Orleans.

Imports of the Week.—The receipts of the leading articles by the river during the past week, amounted to 436 hhds of sugar, 428 bbls of sugar, 2,071 barrels of molasses, 667 bags of coffee, 1,924 bundles of paper, 2,797 packages of merchandise, 1,572 pieces and 255 bdls of iron; 1,445 kegs of nails, 7,000 bushels of grain, 1,175 hides, 1,590 barrels of whisky, 610 barrels of flour, 87 hhds and 310 boxes of tobacco, 133 bales of hemp, 268 tons of pig iron, 1,149 bales of cotton, 329 tierces of land, 727 boxes of glass, 205 pieces of bagging, 130 coils rope, and 8 74 bales of hay. The Republic, Queen City, Switzerland, and J. W. Hailman, from the Ohio river, arrived at New Orleans on the 22d.

Thanks to the gallant Archer, of the Southerner, from Memphis, for tate papers and a manifest, forwarded from Cairo. She passed Evansville early yesterday morning, and was due at raidnight lost night. midnight last night. REGULAR PACKET FOR ST. LOUIS .- The John Bell has been placed in the Saint Louis trade by her owners, who design running her regularly as a packet between that port and this. Will our shippers and packers sustain her? Capt. Austin says he will make regular trips, which will be an advantage to our merchants, as they can always depend upon having one boat in the trade. She is a staunch packet, in cha ge of careful officers, and passengers will find the clerk, Ed. McCullough, to be courteous and attentive. The John Bell will always come to the city wharf, and will take freight or passengers to any intermediate point. She starts to St. Louis to-morrow, Thursday morning.

The New Uncle Sam arrived yesterday morning early with her freight, and was landed at New Albany, where she will await a new shaft. The lady Pike was sent over the falls to the Uncle Sam, yesterday, to lighten there of her freight for Cincinnati. It will be transferred to the mail boats. We do not think she has anything for this port.

FOR THE EAST.—The leviathan Jacob Strader is the mail and passenger packet for Cincinnati and the East at noon to-day. She travels at locomotive speed, has good officers, and can accommodate 800 passengers. The attentive clerk, R. S. Dunning, is prepared to give through tickets. Dunning, is prepared to give through tickets.

The Conewago and 76, from Nashville, were due last night.

We learn from the Cincinnati Gazette, of yesterday, that the Fort Wayne came down and went on the ways for repairs. She will be off to-day, and go to New Orleans Thursday.

A coal boat belonging to Williamson Smith was recently sunk at New Orleans while attempting to land.

attempting to land. The J. C. Fremont, a propeller, arrived from New Orleans yesterday, very heavily laden with sugar and molasses for Pittsburgh.

The Telegraph No. 3, yesterday, in addition to a heavy cargo of cotton, sugar, and molasses, received 40 or 50 tons of old railroad iron for Covington to make into new.

FOR MEMPHIS.—The Southerner is the regular mail packet for Cairo and Memphis this evening. She starts at 4 o'clock, from Portland, and takes passengers and freight to all points along the Ohio and Mississippi. The Southerner is popular in the trade, owing to her excellent qualities and accommodating officers, Capt. Triplett, and J. B. Archer, the clerk. They spare no exertions to please, and always do a heavy way business.

The Dove is due from Kentucky river this Capt. Greer, of the Southern Belle, was in the city yesterday, looking about to contract for a new boat, and visiting the shipyards.

Going For Bacon.—The Tempest yesterday was receiving a lot of 300 empty bacon casks for Clarksville, Cumberland river. One of our provision dealers sends the casks there to be filled with bacon, and then sent back to this market.

The Submarine No. 6, which had been laid up at Covington, has been detailed to go to the wreck of the Delegate, sunk near West Franklin, in the lower Ohio. The Delegate had among her freight a lot of 182 hogsheads of sugar for a firm in Cincinnati.

New Levers.—In Coahama county, Miss., the Board of Police has levied a tax of twenty cents per acre on lands for levee purposes.

The Police Jury of Catahoula parish has ordered Headly's Bayou, on Little river, to be secured by a levee.

ed Headly's Bayou, on Little river, to be secured by a levee.

The Concordia Intelligencer says that if it could have been possible to purchase from Capt. Nevitt the opposite shore—cut a channel from Cowpen Point in the line of Shilling's lakes that line the bluffs on the Mississippi side—the high water now would doubtless have been making a cut-off that would for ever have protected Concordia.

The Envoy has been docked at Paducah, and fully recovered from the attack of the snag. The famous Hiawatha is on her way to New Orleans, from St. Louis, with a good trip, and a large lot of mules at $7 per head.

Man Drownen.—By referring to the memoran-dum of the Diana, it will be seen that a man of the name of Morris fell overboard during the trip

Thanks to the gallant officers of the Diana for late New Orleans papers, a manifest and memoraudum, forwarded from Cairo. She has a very heavy freight, including 425 hogsheads of sugar, and 980 barrels of molasses.

BY TELEGRAPH. XXXVth CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION.

Washington, D. C. Jenuary 25th.—Senate.—
With the exception of a few brief remarks from Mr. Wilson, who offered an additional amendment, and from Messrs. Simmons, Broderick, and Davis, Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, occupied the whole day in explaining why he would vote against the bill, which he considered neither a necessary act under the war making power of the constitution, nor a test of Democracy.

THE splendid passenger steam—
THE splendid passen constitution, nor a test of Democracy.

The discussion of Mr. Slidell's Cuban report was assigned for Monday.

House.—Mr. Wood, from the Post Office Committee, reported a bill to establish a national line of steamships from central points in the United States to Great Britain. The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, and resumed the consideration of the Civil and Diplomatic Appropriation bill.

Mr. Hopkins offered an amendment, appropriating $7,500 as salary to the Minister Resident at Japan, Townsend Harris.

Mr. Sherman contended that the President had oright to make this appropriation. He said, We are now following the usurpation commenc-l by Tyler when he sent Cushing to China." Several gentlemen expressed their views, con-nding that the President has the right to make diplomatic appropriations whenever, in his opin-ion, the public interests require it. The amend-ment was adopted by 1 majority. During the proceedings, Curry attacked the appointment of so many foreign ministers. The offices were like so many hospitals for broken-down politicians offices were like so many hospitals for brokendown politicians.

Mr. Keitt replied if what Curry had asserted was so, it was not the fault of the diplomatic system, but of the party which had pressed the appointment of persons unfit for office.

Mr. Sickles condemned such reform as was now sought to be inaugurated. It would not be approved by the country. At this time, when Europe is agitated, it is necessary to have representatives abroad. Gentlemen, in their zeal to retrench, did not seem to understand the history of the times.

ne times. Mr. Dowdell moved to strike out the clause in the bill appropriating $75,000 to enable the President to carry out the act of 1819, and subsequent acts for the suppression of the slave trade. He said this clause should have no place here.—

There was no line or syllable authorizing the resident to send the Africans of the Echo to Lieria. It was an assumption of power. He was opposed to the whole arrangement.

Mr. Phelps, of Miss., replied that various means have been heretofore appropriated to enable the President to execute the act of 1819, and the latter has informed Congress, in his annual mes-sage, of a contract for the care and support of those captured Africans. The arrangement was wise and humane, for which he took the pre-cedent of President Monroe. Mr. Clay said he was opposed to all laws in nce to the slave trade Mr. Phelps-Then repeal them; but so long as they remain, carry them out. Mr. Singleton moved a proviso that no part of the money shall be used for the support or edu-cation of any Africans heretofore captured, or cation of any Africans heretofore captured, or who may be captured hereafter and returned to their native land, after they shall have been delivered into the hands of the agent or agents.—

He believed in a strict construction of the Constitution, and objected to schooling and educating such Africans at the public expense.

Mr. Nicholas said if there was one clause in the bill which, more than another, met the approbation of the people, it was that now under conbation of the people, it was that now under con-sideration. It was the most meritorious approriation in the entire bill.

Mr. Curry objected to the President's making a ant. Curry objected to the Plesiden's making a contract to support and educate the negroes of the Echo. If he could make a contract for life. He urged a rigid adherence to the Constitution, and was not able to discriminate between false and strained constructions of law by a high executive officer, and by a hand of men.

constructions of law by a night executive officer, and by a band of men.

Mr. Nichols replied, defending the appropriation. He believed every thing the President had done in the matter was dictated by a high sense of humanity. The committee rose.

On motion of Mr. Hopkins, a resolution was adopted calling on the President for a report of adopted, calling on the President for a report of the doings of Special Agent Nugent, at Vancou-ver's Island. Adjourned.

DR. R. W. BUSH HAVING permanently located in Louisville, Ky., of-fers his professional services to the citizens of Lousville and vicinity.

Residence on Walnut street, between East and Floyd streets, house formerly occupied by Col. Wm. Preston.

DR. STRAUS,

SURGEON DENTIST WOULD inform the citizens of Louisville and its vicinity, that he has located himself here permanently, for the purpose of practicing his profession in all its various branches, after the latest and most approved style. Having practiced for the last twenty years in New Orleans, I feel confident of giving satisfaction to every one who may honor me with a call. I would call the particular attention of the public to my mode of filling teeth, which is done in such a manner as to get twice the amount of gold into a cavity, as done in the usual way. I can, therefore, "guarantee "every tooth plugged in such manner to be as good as if never decayed.

Artificial teeth inserted—from one to an entire set—not only for beauty, but also for use, with or without suction, such as the case may require. Teeth extracted with as little pain as possible, and all other operations pertaining to dentistry.

Office on Jefferson street, between Second and Third streets, South side, Louisville.

J. F. WILSON ...J. F. WILSON DRS. FITTZ & WILSON,

DENTAL SURGEONS, HAVING had the advantage of a thorough Dental education, offer their Professional services to the citizens of Louisville and vicinity. Dr. Fittz's skill in Mechanical Dentistry can be seen at their office, specimens of which took the first Premium and Diplomas at the United States Fair in 1857. Dr. Wilson has been treating aching teeth successfully for the last five years by destroying the nerve without pain, filling the fangs and crown with gold, restoring the tooth to its natural shape, and making its suseful as before deesy. Do not have your teeth extracted until you are certain they cannot be saved. More than fifty per cent. of the teeth usually extracted can be made useful through life. We are daily treating and filling teeth of this class that comes in to be extracted. In no case do we disfigure a tooth by filing to fill it, using other and better means All operations warranted as represented, and terms as liberal as any good Dentist can afford.
